

Book-in-Brief: Authentication of Hadith: Redefining the Criteria

Dr. Israr Ahmad Khan's Authentication of Hadith: Redefining the Criteria was published in complete form in 2010. In the work he addresses the sensitive topic of Hadith authentication, focusing on the criteria adopted by compilers of the major collections to argue that concentration on the continuity and accuracy of the chain of narrators, rather than the textual content of Hadith, has led to certain hadiths (ahadith) being included which either contradict other hadiths directly, project the Prophet in an uncharacteristic light, or do not reflect and/or conflict with the teachings of the Qur'an. Furthermore, he maintains, given the great mass of traditions which circulated soon after the Prophet passed away, it would be unwise to ignore the fact that many contained targeted forgeries. These not only intended to corrupt the essential message of the Faith but also to bolster political, sectarian, economic, and even theological support. Political as well as religious differences, motivated largely by rivalry towards the fledgling Faith, led to a sustained and well-known campaign of disinformation using the vehicle of Hadith. Although the misuse and abuse of Hadith is nothing new, in today's complex and volatile world the consequences of relying on fraudulent and counterfeit Hadith to legitimise extremist behavior, justify blatant abuse, particularly of women, and issue disturbing fatwas calling for violent acts, is not only far too easy but in fact very dangerous. In addition, given the widespread anti-Islamic sentiment currently dominating mainstream discourse, it is imperative that the issue of fabricated hadiths, extensively publicised and ruthlessly exploited to support the thesis of Islamic violence and backwardness, is addressed. It is the responsibility of Muslim scholars well versed in the Islamic sciences, to root out with honesty and courage those hadiths which have clearly been fabricated, and which not only invite spurious interpretation but also perpetuate ignorance betraying both the QurTMan and the Prophet.
