Admit It - These Keep You Awake Too! Concerns of Women Over 50 by Jean Shaw looks at the anxieties affecting most women in midlife. As a baby boomer herself, Jean discusses the issues she and her peers are currently facing, such as problems with diet, exercise, finance, health, relationships, sleep and weight gain. Jean covers the topics concerning women over fifty in a conversational way, and intersperses her thoughts with jokes and quotes about the subjects under review. She suggests small changes you can make in your life to improve the golden years, and emphasizes the link between diet, weight and health, and the importance of maintaining strong finances and relationships.
