

The Way to The Source

Since the time some books of mine were initially published and were available to be studied, some people have begun to purify their spirits by those books and under the supervision of an instructor; they have obeyed every instruction meticulously and reached the thresh hold of salvation of which the minimum stage is avoiding committing sins and doing basic requisite obligations; some have opened their spiritual eyes, ears and hearts to truth and found themselves in the righteous path. They were asked to record of their previous and present spiritual feelings in a diary and deliver it to their instructors; interesting texts have come into being. Some which can be grasped easily by everybody will be quoted in this book anonymously. Hopefully they will prove fruitful for those who desire to move toward God. It must be mentioned that the majority of these people have completed the "Awakening" stage and automatically found their instructor; in other words, they have achieved "Awakening" and finding an instructor solely by the guidance of God, they were so determined in their belief of the rightness of their way that have not faltered and now are trying to achieve the ultimate position in spiritual advancements. Furthermore, if a person obeys what is written in this book, not only will he gain spiritual Advancements, but also he will, definitely, help others gain them if he is a clear-sighted and sagacious person. On the other hand, it goes without saying that such a person can not achieve those spiritual advancements without a religious, clear-sighted instructor who is an expert in knowing the spirit and its feeling and diseases because people have been brought up in different environments and have different spiritual feelings, so the instructor like an experienced physical doctor, examines his patient, diagnoses his spiritual diseases and prescribes a suitable supplication or praying for him. The walkers of this path must be aware that they should complete one stage and then continue the other ones because human nature tends to gain all virtues immediately without taking any preliminary stages. For example, those who have not completed the advanced stages of spiritual advancements and are not able to avoid committing sins, would like to begin the utmost pureness stage, on hearing its importance and the feelings of those who have completed that stage. Every vice takes months to be eliminated from the soul and obviously as far as a person having different vices, he cannot be pure for God. In some of the Imamâ€™s sayings, it has been said that every believer of God is in first, second, third or seventh step of having faith. Imam Sadeq (peace be upon him) says: â€œA person who is in the first step should not be informed of the second step because he cannot tolerate itâ€•. If this happens for such a person, he will be bothered and offended. Another point which worth mentioning in this part is that experiences reveal that if a person obeys the instructions written in this book by the guidance of an instructor mentioned above, he can purify himself easily and achieve the spiritual advancements and by the help of God and His representatives - - the infallible Imams - - will be a true servant of God and in the process of purification he might have spiritual revelations, observations and benevolence; there is a saying which is quoted directly by God: "My servant, by obeying the requisite obligations, will approach me and then I will be his eyes to see; his tongue to speak and his hand to make; I will give him whatever he asks me". Such a person is like a mirror who shows the qualifications of God.
