

Shii Islam and Identity: Religion, Politics and Change in the Global Muslim Community (Library of Modern Religion)

The contemporary world is increasingly regarded as a global community in which traditional patterns of social organization, faith and practice are rapidly being transformed. These changes are evident in many religious traditions, and Shii Islam is no exception. This book seeks to investigate the nature of contemporary Shiism, focusing on the creation of identities - showing the diversity of thought within the Shii world, the transnational nature of Shii networks, and the forces of tradition and modernity influencing current developments in Shii identity. Increasing contacts between East and West have made the presence of Shiism more visible in the modern world, especially in Europe. Shii Islam and Identity shows that it is no longer sufficient to speak of a Shii Crescent; rather, Shii worlds range from Senegal, Afghanistan, Iran and Iraq, to Turkey, Albania and European capitals such as London and Berlin.
