Contains: The Failure of Meccans to Recognize the Value of the Prophet Anger and Resentment The Vilest Arabs in Mockery and Hatred of the Prophet Abu Jahl - the Father of Ignorance The Cruelty of Abu Lahab and his Wife The Reaction of Umm Jameel An Attempt to Bribe Rahman The Failure of Meccans to Recognize the Value of the Prophet In these early days of Islam, those who opposed the Prophet (salla Allahu alihi wa sallam) and his message were blinded by their own arrogant, useless idolatrous traditions and pride. Yet strange as it may seem, when it came to taking solemn oaths or when they wished people to take them seriously, the Arabs preferred to swear by Allah rather than their pagan gods. For many years the pagan, materialistic society suffered on every account. They received no benefit for their dedication to the idols and corruption abounded in every form. Women were treated as worthless human beings and seldom afforded their rights. Injustice, murder, and theft, amongst other depravities, were rampant. Yet even as these sad, intolerable state of affairs persisted, those who opposed the Prophet, (Salla Allahu alihi wa sallam), failed to recognize or admit that what the Prophet, (Salla Allahu alihi wa sallam), whom they had until recently attested to having an honest and upright character, brought and practiced a much better, higher standard of life for all; a standard where justice and happiness prevailed. But more importantly, they rejected the news that there was life after death where they would be held accountable for their disbelief in the Oneness of their Creator and for which there is either eternal punishment or the unfailing eternal rewards of Paradise with its continuous peace and happiness. The fact of the matter was that they failed to recognize the true value of the Prophet (salla Allahu alihi wa sallam) both spiritually and materialistically. Anger and Resentment Anger and resentment toward the message Prophet Muhammad (salla Allahu alihi wa sallam) brought continued to intensify in Mecca as the number of his followers began to increase. One day, as the Prophet (salla Allahu alihi wa sallam) entered the precincts of Kaâ€™bah at the Hijr Ishmael, a group of unbelievers gathered and indulged in slanderous remarks about him. However, he paid no attention and continued to make his way across to the Kaaba where he kissed the Black Stone then proceeded to circumambulate the Kabah. The first time he passed by the Hijr Ishmael, the unbelievers shouted at him in a very disrespectful, degrading manner. The same occurred on his second and third round, but on the third round as they jeered and shouted their slanderous remarks he stopped and said: O Koraysh, will you listen to me? Indeed, by Him who holds my soul in His Hand, I bring you slaughter. The unbelievers were silenced by this unexpected statement, and silence hovered like a heavy weight above the gathering.
