

A Standard Pilots Notes

A humble plongeur and a wealthy widow contrive to create a 1st World War biplane and set off on the airshow circuit but, not everything and everyone moves as quickly and smoothly as the feisty Mrs K™ had anticipated. The author™s diplomatic skills are stretched as he pilots his way through the bureaucracy of the Civil Aviation Authority and the foibles of a bespoke aircraft manufacturer. There are a number of "Pilot Stories"™ on the bookshelves " this is one of the better ones. Light and chatty, it™s a book more about the human condition than a blow-by-blow account of how to build an Avro 504K " it™s almost like being in the bar with the author as he recounts his often very funny tale. A book which can be warmly recommended to even those whose interest in aviation "is not much greater than a mole™s™
