

If Your Wife Kicks You Out, Grab the Fridge and Run!

The must read book for surviving separation and divorce. “Sometimes you need to do something mental in order to stay sane”. Rob Cope at TEDx Wanaka 2014 Brutally honest, raw, authentic and funny all in equal measure. A great adventure/coming of age story steeped in relational insights that both men and women alike will identify with. You Tube Clip - <https://youtu.be/Hi0p-bX9QFM> Rob is currently hitchhiking with his fridge from San Francisco to New York to promote “If Your Wife Kicks You Out Grab the Fridge and Run”. His days are long, hard, full of adventure and fascinating people. You can follow him on his Facebook page and watch live daily updates from life on the road. <https://www.facebook.com/projectwildman> About the book When Rob Cope, author of Men Wanted for Hazardous Journey, set out to change the face of manhood through his non-profit organization “Project Wildman”, little did he realize the radical turn his own life as a husband and father was about to take. Just as Project Wildman was getting off the ground, Rob’s own marriage hit the skids, leaving him confused, angry, depressed, and alone for the first time since he was a teenager. Like many other men who have walked a similar road, Rob could have hit the bottle. Instead, he hit the road” with his fridge”embarking on not one but two epic hitchhiking tours across New Zealand. Over the course of his travels, Rob rediscovered his passion for life, his country, and himself. This is his story.
