

Radiant Burn (Fighting Fire Book 5)

Living with the man he loves and helping to raise his two children isn't something Scott McGregor can be sure he deserves--at least not until he learns the truth behind the nightmares. Uncertain whether the knowledge will fan the flames or finally bring the fire under control, Scott heads to Phoenix, only to realize time and distance may not have been enough to prepare him for what he discovers at the home of the only other firefighter to survive the Prescott blaze. For Rob Hammond, the last two months have been a preview into heaven. With his children home, and Scott in his bed, he finally has the family he's always dreamed of. All he has to do now is help Scott through the last of the shadows left from his close encounter with death. If Rob can keep everything on an even keel, Scott will conquer the PTSD demons that haunt him and finally get the happily ever after he deserves. Twelve years ago, nothing could have prevented their relationship from imploding, but as each of their self-imposed barriers falls away, the battle lines shift, and Scott and Rob need each other as never before as they fight to make Mountain Shadows a home for their family. One man is certain things will work out--the other is afraid they can't. Only one of them can be right.Â
