

Irshad and the Abuse of Muslim Women

Irshad and the Abuse of Muslim Women is a story of an Australian girl who fell in love with a Muslim immigrant student from Saudi Arabia. In a short period her Muslim boyfriend became her idol and she worshipped him. Irshad left her Christian faith and embraced Islam. Eventually, her Muslim lover changed her name from Susan to Irshad and married her. After living with him for five years in Saudi Arabia and five years in the Mujahedeen Campus in Afghanistan, Irshad experienced the most abusive life that a Muslim woman would ever go through. However, Irshad's life was turned into a nightmare when she discovered that her husband was one of the so-called Magnificent Nineteen Islamic Terrorists who carried out the terrorist attacks in New York on September 11, 2001. Irshad became wanted by the CIA and placed on the FBI's list as the First Muslim Female Terrorist to be apprehended and sent to the Guantanamo Bay Detention Center. Nevertheless, Irshad strove hard to prove her innocence and vowed to expose the evils of Islam, which herself became one of its victims. Would she succeed in achieving those seemingly impossible goals? It is a book of Love and Terror. A Life dedicated to a Noble Cause. A Proposal that is Worth a Try!
