

The Return of Hijāb Part II: The Woman between the Honour of Islam and the Disgrace of Jahiliyah

Muslim women have played a vital role in building the Islamic Structure; the whole Islamic nation has benefited a great deal from this (sharp) side of a woman's weapon, throughout the blessed centuries. But then, it did not take long before the situation gradually deteriorated; for it was the turn of the other destructive side of a woman's weapon to injure the nation. None of us would ever come to forget the destructive role the maids had played in demolishing the high structure of the nation during its prosperous times, and we do not forget that the deviation of woman (or subjecting her to deviation) had always been the first reason behind the fall of great civilizations, whose people were inflicted with divine punishment, famine and incurable diseases, as was the case of the ancient Greeks, Romans, Persians, Indians, Babylonians, and people from other kingdoms. As for our present time, the modern age has many examples, which help to enhance the belief of the Muslim about the danger of committing those sins and pursuing those desires that westerners have indulged in, which were adopted by many a nation.
