The Fallacies of New Atheism: A worldview founded upon discrimination, pseudo-intellectualism, and an ignorance of history

An ebook explaining why atheists shouldn't bother with the virulent type of atheism espoused by Richard Dawkins, Sam Harris, and the late Christopher Hitchens; Jove elucidates on the moral failings, double-standards, and disingenuous assertions prompted by the New Atheist movement in their condemnation of feminism, their distinct focus on Islam, and their ignorance of US foreign policy. Jove elaborates on how the modern atheist movement imploded: topics range from the New Atheists ignoring sexual harassment at their conventions while condemning Islamic countries for their treatment of women, how certain prominent atheists are using freedom of speech as a veneer to spread hate speech about feminists and Muslims while arguing that they're more civilized than countries that ignore women's and minority rights, and how they ignore the contemporary economic issues at their peril since it could cause a resurgence of religion.
