

Passion Healed Me: Finding My Own Voice at Midlife

Passion Healed Me was written over a 3 Year Period Post Divorce during a profound Spiritual Awakening. At Age 50, a new life called. This Journey is universal as we begin to question our life and purpose and Jan realized her life as an Orthodontists wife was not her final role. The book is written as a journal as she continues to ask the question who am I and spirit answers in mysterious and magical ways. She discovers she has a gift, to heal with her Voice and begins to study the ancient origins of Sound Healing and the very confusing world of Spirituality. She feels she has no compass in a world that is not based on truth and has to learn who and what to trust. Discovering Passion anew, she is confused by the new relationship models and her trusting nature takes her into humorous and interesting experiences. All women see themselves in Jans narrative that is poignant and very human. It takes courage to leave security and take the spiritual path. There is grace and wisdom at work in this piece. The forward of the book states it very nicely: This book is written for all the women who are glimpsing their own passionate, alive selves as something they see through a window...not quite accessible from where they are and who they are with. I invite you to dive in and go deep to find out who you really are and make no excuses. Stand, glow, and command the particles of real- ity as you align with your own divine self.
