There are categories for the judgment of salvation which are mercy, justice, and grace. For human beings who do not believe in God, they will receive justice of what they have done. For the believers, God may give mercy or grace which are usually conditional upon works or faith. They cannot mix works and grace as far as salvation is concern. Salvation Contract gave a clarification between mercy and grace with regards to salvation. Other subject matter clarified in this book are: born against vs. born again; faith vs. work; grace vs. law; faith vs. belief; fact vs. truth; natural faith vs. biblical faith and so forth. About the author: Dr. Camilo J. Adlawan is a physician, practice medicine since 1963 then from 1992 went into deeper research and comparative studies about the major world religions and the Bible. Acknowledge and have faith in God as the greatest of all the physicians.
