“Jesus attacked preemptively.” --The shortest verse in the Kickass Gospel, KAG 8:37 Have you ever wondered how Christians, who claim to follow the Jesus we think we know, seem to wind up in favor of things like war, torture, and the persecution of homosexuals? Ever asked where modern Christians got the idea that Jesus wants his followers focusing on building megachurches, defending the rich, and never, ever calling His birthday “Xmas”? Well, it turns out weve been reading the wrong gospel all this time! But fortunately, David Ellis Dickerson has uncovered this long-lost gospel—an expansion of the Book of Matthew—and it comes with brand new Beatitudes (“Blessed are the ignorant, for they shall be relatable”), new teachings (“Jesus Cares About Sports and Parking”) and new stories of Jesus battling his arch-nemesis, the dangerously liberal and super-villainous Moloch 3000. It also includes prophetic footnotes, and an Appendix that tells the thrilling story of how David found this gospel while racing all over the globe and avoiding the black-robed Brotherhood of Humorless Fanatics. If that wasnt enough, this book contains the entire text of the King James Version of the Book of Matthew, just in case you need one of those.

And if none of this appeals to you, you can always write to the author. For as Kickass Gospel 3:23 teaches, “Truly, writing certain angry letters is the most good you can do while sitting
