Excerpt from Out From the Darkness: An Autobiography Unfolding the Life Story and Singular Vicissitudes of a Scandinavian Bartimaeus; Carefully Edited And; Revised for the Press, to Make the Publication Now Offered to Families the Book of the Day Custom, which is all but inexorable, demands from the author of a book, a few prefatory words to introduce his bantling to the world; and it would be ungracious to regret the opportunity to say a few last words by way of a beginning. The preface to a book, like the prologue to a play, must be written after the work is otherwise complete; and it is pleasant to realize that the promises of long ago are within a few days of fulfillment in the publication of this volume. The story of a blind mans life will not, I trust, be found dull and uninteresting, for as Tennyson says, I am a part of all that I have seen; and that may be supplemented with the words of Hamlet, In my minds eye, Horatio. The gold fields of Australia and the peculiarities of its population; the perils of Chinese navigation and the possible dangers from Mongolian immigration; the groat fire in Chicago in some of its phases; some of the dangers from American monopolists and ratteners, and many other questions of social importance which more or less immediately affect the blind, have been woven into the web of this tale.
