

Jack McAfghan: Reflections on Life with my Master

While this book was written to comfort those who have lost a beloved pet, friend or family member, it is not about death and loss. This book is about life and love. Written from beyond Rainbow Bridge, the canine Jack reveals secrets to living a life full of love as well as methods of coping with life after loss. As he teaches what to expect during the grieving process, he gently guides the reader from grief into healing. Once you learn how to do it, Jack's wisdom can be applied to every two-legged and four-legged relationship in your life for as long as you live. Jack McAfghan shares the memoirs of his four-legged life as a mixed-breed Afghan Hound. This love story reveals the depth of love between a dog and its master. They learn their lessons side by side, inevitably applying what they have learned as life unfolds. Jack's words and wisdom will comfort, inform and support those who are in the process of training a dog, learning to love, or grieving over the loss of a friend. He achieves this by presenting observations about interpersonal relationships, psychological aspects of canine behavior and revealing the possibilities that exist in life and after death. Throughout the book Jack reminds us that by keeping one's heart in the right place and by thinking positive thoughts we can manifest the changes needed to alter the course of our lives. Jack brings the wisdom of a lifetime to his readers and expands tolerance and compassion for all of humanity. He leads us to a higher love while also teaching the art of letting go. He does this by extending himself to every creature of the earth, every human on the planet, every spirit in the universe and most of all, to the bona fide Master over Heaven and Earth.
